National Day of the Cowboy honors the American cowboy heritage

Dubois Wyoming— Experience a weekend of exciting crafts and activities inspired by the lives of the American cowboy at Dubois' National Day of the Cowboy celebration on Saturday, July 24 and Sunday, July 25.

Visit Dubois' unique shops and meet shop owners and saloon keepers costumed in authentic Western garb. Children can listen to stories and watch artists create their crafts. Take a gallery walk and meet our local artists. Enjoy our excellent and varied restaurants.

A cowboy parade sponsored by Dubois Main Street begins at the Dubois Town Park at noon and ends at the Rustic Pine Tavern.

The parade is followed by Prickly Pair and the Cactus Chorale, a Dubois musical group, singing traditional cowboy songs at a free afternoon concert from 3 to 4 p.m. in the downtown corner park.

Next, wet your whistle with some fine whiskey tasting at the Nostalgia Bistro in downtown Dubois. Enjoy the bistro's appealing appetizers with your whiskey. Tasting starts at 4 p.m. Ticket prices will be announced later.

A "Western Shootout" at 6 p.m. on Main Street east of Whiskey Creek Saloon is the kick-off for a Country Western Dance and Barbeque at Whiskey Creek Saloon. The dance and barbecue benefit Dubois Main Street. Try out line dancing and square dancing, then cowboy or cowgirl-up for an authentic barbeque. Dine and dance inside or outside under the stars. Wear your best denim, cowboy boots and cowboy hat for this event!

Nationally-known horse trainer Bruce Laird will hold a Western Horsemanship Clinic at the Clarence Allison Memorial Rodeo Arena just east of town on Saturday, July 24 and Sunday July 25. Auditors are welcome, and the price to audit is $25 per day. Children with adult supervision and toddlers are free. For more details please visit www.bruclairdhorses.com

Wear your cowboy hat to golf for prizes at a Cowboy Day Golf Invitational at the Antelope Hills Golf Course on Saturday, July 24. More details will be announced later.

The mission of the National Day of the Cowboy is preserving America's cowboy heritage and sharing and perpetuating through education, the arts, celebrations, gatherings, rodeos, and community activities the history and culture that the U.S. Congress' National Day of the Cowboy resolution honors. Dubois Main Street, Inc. is proud to help preserve and promote the unique cultural heritage of Dubois and support the community's economic development activities.

For more information about National Day of the Cowboy activities, phone 307-455-2700 or stop by the Main Street Office at 706 Meckem Street from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday
