Dubois National Bighorn Sheep Center's Fun Filled Evening

November 7

Dubois, WY - Plan to come early to the Dubois National Bighorn Sheep Center's 16th annual fundraiser. The social hour starts at 5:30 PM at the Headwaters Arts and Conference Center on Saturday, November 7, 2009. Dinner begins at 6:30 PM so guests have only one hour to play the pre dinner games. This is also the best time to look at the many donated items on the raffle tables featuring a range of prizes from art to zany.

Once the live auction, 50/50 cash raffle and bighorn bingo games start after dinner, it is hard to sneak away and place your bid on the silent auction items, but it can be done!

The suspense builds before the drawing for the Big Four Raffle. ,You need not be present to win: a custom, made in Wyoming fly rod and reel package donated by Wind River Gear and Bank of Jackson Hole; hand carved moose antler art by Monte Baker; elegant turquoise and silver necklace with earrings by jeweler Beth Finesilver; or a Canon EOS

Rebel SX Digital Camera . Tickets for the Big Four Raffle are available now by contacting the National Bighorn Sheep Center.

Some lucky person in the crowd is also holding his breath hoping that the other half of his playing card will be pulled from the bucket for the rifle raffle, and win a Winchester Model 70 Featherweight 300 WSM.

Funds raised during this event go towards the educational programs and operation of the Center. The cash from the 50/50 raffle is earmarked for habitat improvement projects or other needs of the Bighorns.
